

Web Cleaning Sleeve

How would you like every roller in your line to be a web cleaner?

Despite the obvious benefits, budget or space constraints sometimes prevent the installation of a "traditional" web cleaner. Contamination will then continue to pass through the process, causing line-stops, unnecessary clean-down, material waste, rejects...and potentially unhappy customers.

But what if you were able to instantly convert any path or roller into a web cleaner?

The Web Cleaning Sleeve is made from a specially formulated polymer which will pick up contamination from the web as it passes. The sleeve itself can be cleaned during routine maintenance using Arcalian Wipes.

Features:

- No installation space required
- Simply inflate the sleeve with an airline and push it on to the roller. Trim to length with a sharp blade.
- Sleeves available in any length up to 10 metres
